

Open Access

‘Euresian Publications’ journals are open access, “By open access journals, ‘Euresian Publications’ mean its immediate, free availability for the public on internet, permitting any users to read, download, copy, distribute, print, search or link to the full text of these articles, crawl them for indexing, pass them as data to software or use them for any other scholarly and lawful purpose.” The Internet and web based technologies are nowadays providing newer and more opportunities to bring information to wider audience at virtually no marginal cost and allow them to use it in new, innovative ways. This all has formed the base of a new framework for the researchers to carry out and publish more easily.

Open access literature is digital, online, free of charge and free of most copyright and licensing restrictions. Thus, open access content is digital content mainly data to software, audio, video and multimedia. Open access in current years also focuses on peer-reviewed research articles and reprints. Open access articles are much beneficial and serve interest of the writer, reader and implementer.

There is a growing interest in the academic communities in open access publishing. Open access publishing is free to all specially for accessing the data and even many cases publishing the information. Thus, it is acceptable and affordable to all the individuals and researchers from different sections of the society. It is also a better source of librarians to include the website of the open access journals and keep records of them especially at the time of pricing crisis. Reduction in expenses and increased readability advances the mission of the educational institutes to share the knowledge. For publisher it is better and faster source for advertisements as well as more citations in the academic and scientific journals and adds to the quality as well as popularity of the journals. Funding agencies also get more and more interest in selected topics of the research as also many other throughout the world carry out similar type of research work which adds in current knowledge. Interested citizens and other people also come across the recent changes and developments in research through open access publishing. For readers, researchers and even industrialists journals are better than books for learning quickly and implement the changes in the existing system.

Open access (OA) gives a worldwide view to millions of readers and users for the benefit and development of research. Directly or indirectly, it helps in creating a greater impact of the opinions and research in the society. OA gives them barrier-free access to the literature they need for their research, unconstrained. Readers and researchers can download full-text articles, which are also available on many indexing and data recording services. It also helps in data mining and finding exact type of articles which are available online.
